Miss Lizzie Karg, daughter of Kingdon, is visiting C. W. Schwenke.

Rev. Hart preached to the convicts in the Penitentiary on last Sunday.

Masonic Installation will take place here on St. John's day, December 27th.

Mr. John Webb, of Nortonville, Kan., is spending a few weeks with his friends and relatives.

An appropriate obituary of Richard Walker, of Washington town ship, will be published next week.

Mr. Rodehaver has sold his Grocery to W. H. Guthrie, who will consolidate the two stores, occupying the Tipton Building. Mr. Rodehaver contemplates going to Tennessee.

Parson O'Gath, who is an ornithologist as well as a theologian, proves to us that a Barn Owl is a Barn Owl, and not a White The rare specimen at Flave Oase's is a Barn Owl.

The Executive and other committees on the 8th of January celebration are requested to meet in the Auditor's office on next Monday evening.

Business of importance will be considered.

This is the season of the year when the strife is to have the biggest and fattest hog. Arthur McCourtney is ahead to date. He sold a pig last week to Geo. Fox, ten months old, that weighed 510 lbs., kept in a pen and never fed any corn. Let some body beat that if he can.

We publish elsewhere an advertisement of lots for sale in Thornton, a pleasant suburb of Chicago. The opportunity is now offered to make investments, which in the very nature of things, must soon prove very profitable. Call on J. E. Butin for particulars.

Mr. J. R. Calvert, one of our old and esteemed subscribers from the Rock House, called to see us on Tuesday, and encouraged us substantially for the coming campaign. Through a neighbor he brought with him we were also allowed the happiness of subscribing to a church.

Jess Batin has our thanks for coal on subscription. During our distress, depending the coartractions of the Conifer's Republican Mugwump grey mare, Jess furnished us two buckets of coal at $1.00 per bucket, which has been credited on subscription. This is the cheapest coal of the season!

Mr. C. E. Bowen, Bank Cashier, had a distressing accident on last Sunday. A large lump of coal fell on his hand, crushing his fingers, but luckily not fracturing any bones. Mr. Bowen is able for duty, however, and cheerful to cash checks from any of our subscribers who choose that method of paying subscription.

Mr. E. S. Culver, of Gore, and Miss Nettie Bemet, of Logan, were married yesterday evening at the residence of the brides mother, on North Market street, Rev. Burns, of the M. E. Church, officiating.

After the ceremony a pleasant reception was held, the happy couple left for Cincinnati and other cities on a bridal tour, taking with them hearty congratulations, and good wishes for a long and happy life.

We publish on the first page of this issue the report of the visiting committee, on our Infirmary, and children's home. The committee is composed of persons disinterested, and appointed under law by the Judge, serving without pay. Hence their suggestions and criticisms are entitled to consideration, made as they are in the spirit of conscientious discharge of a not very pleasant duty.

Here is a challenge to Butter makers. Last week Mrs. Green's cow, half Jersey, produced 84 pounds of butter. The family consists of nine persons, and milk and cream as needed were used at every meal. Celia Burgoon, who is the challenging butter maker for town and county, is sure she could make ten pounds every week, if all the cream was used. Let us hear from the butter makers.

The girl whose cow can beat this will get a handsome Christmas present.

Dr. Farquhar, of Putnam, has published a brochure intended for the consideration of the General Assembly, in which he shows the absurdity and injustice of an official recognition of one system of medicine. The Doctor, who is one of the most accomplished physicians of the State, and a gentleman of broad intelligence, and finished culture, argues against a rude colonial legislation that discriminates against intelligence in the profession, and against the Divine art of curing and alleviating the infirmities of mankind.

Judge Friesner is holding Court in New Lexington this week.

Mr. Benjamin Webb, of Webb Summit, one of our oldest citizens died on last Saturday. Obituary next week.

Mr. Homer Stiers and family, of Haydensville, left last Monday for Norfolk, Va., where Mr. Stiers has rented a large farm, and where he proposes making his home.

We regret to lose Mr. Stiers from our county. He is one of the most intelligent and enterprising young farmers of the Valley, esteemed as a good citizen and popular as a Democrat.

He takes with him our best wishes, and the hope that he may find his new home a happy one, and attended by as prosperous results as rewarded his industrious life in the Hocking Valley.

The young Democrats of Zanesville are organized under the title of the Jefferson Club, and have recently opened a Reading Room, where all the prominent Democratic papers of the State and country are received and kept on file.

The Sentinel will visit them weekly, and we hope help in its feeble way, to keep the fires burning in the Democratic hearts of the boys in the Capital on the Muskingum.

The young gentlemen of Point Pleasant will give a Calico Ball on the evening of December 30, to which we have been invited, for which courtesy the brethren have our thanks. The cards of invitation are printed on checked calico, and are as handsome in style and design as they are appropriate.

Among the committee on arrangements we find our Logan boys, Smith, Beckenwald, Judy and Shively.

We hope the boys may have a pleasant time, and that the girls in their calico dresses may not only captivate but capture.

We regret to learn that Mr. Lloyd Myers has concluded to remove from Logan and make his future business headquarters in Cleveland.

Mr. Myers is one of our most esteemed citizens. He is a generous warm hearted man, foremost in every work of charity, and public enterprise. We are sorry to lose him to Logan, but in his departure, extend to him our best wishes for a happy home and the best of business success.

Mr. M. will continue in the Insurance business, having general charge in Cleveland of some of the best companies of the country.

He left on Monday night. His business here will be in charge of Mr. T. P. Johnston.

Santa Claus Photographed.

The enterprising firm of Reber & Co. have succeeded in securing an advance copy, the picture of Santa Claus as he appears on the chimney tops on Christmas Night.

The old fellow is unusually generous-hearted this year, and proposes to have something for the stockings and Christmas Trees of all the good little boys and girls of Logan. He has already left a part of the stock of presents at Rebers, so as to be handy for him when he lands up his reindeer sleigh. The little folks and old folks are invited to call here now, and see the pretty things for the Holidays.

Why We Shiver.

We have been out of coal for a week, and cluster, shivering about one stove, fevered by beggared and borrowed coal and scraping of slack from the empty coal house.

It is all like Kottner's fault if we freeze. Col. Ike, before the election, made a bet with "Parson" Gould, for sundry supplies of coal for the Sentinel. Col. Ike lost his bet, but hoping to make up this loss from his bad political judgement, went to trading horses for his coal wagon.

He met with various, and unexpected returns, and got his wagon badly wrecked, as was his property by his kickers. He got in a trade an old grey that balked reared and kicked. She broke the wagon tongue rearing, and destroyed the wagon bed kicking. Col. Ike proposed to reduce his political knowledge, for refractory Republicans to an application on his unruly animal. He fastened a rope to the mouth and tied the other end to her heels. This contrivance kept the beast from rearing up before, and kicking up behind, but old grey, like stubborn Republicans, who were tied by party harness refused to go to the polls—refused to budge a peg.

Col. Ike is on the street with his free load of coal for the Sentinel, and can neither go back nor come forward. Hence west and shiver, and censure his skill in horse trading as much as he deplores his knowledge in betting on elections.

LATER—The coal has come. Old grey is subdued. Ike is glad, and we are thawing out, and old grey, like the Republican party, has accepted the situation and followed the procession.
